

That Job Has My Name On It

That Job Has My Name On It Competitive edge employment skills

Do you panic before the big job interview but know you are the best person for the job? Are you wondering why you just never seem to get that job or promotion you really want? Its time to invest in yourself and get the knowledge, skills and attitude to put yourself forward and own your career decisions.

With the ever- changing career market it up to the individual to accept responsibility for their own career management and be committed to continual personal and professional development.

This programme is an innovative approach to marketing yourself in the employment arena. With the “You are a business” activities, this programme is interactive and engaging but more importantly it will make you think about that next job interview a little differently. The programme can be tailored to suit job seekers or employed individuals wanting to explore career growth or change.

The workshop will cover:

- Your image and business success
- Dressing the part
- Communication skills
- Workplace etiquette
- Feeling confident to put yourself forward
- Networking strategies
- Dynamite CV's
- Exploring career options
- Learning to love job interviews
- Discovering your competitive edge
